

Telecommunications

Examples of Michael's work in the telecommunications sector, including international work, are set out below:

- Advising a leading telecoms provider on disputes arising from the construction of a pan-European telecommunications network
- Advising on disputes relating to a troubled IT implementation in the mobile phone sector
- Acting on data protection and breach of confidence disputes for a mobile phone company
- Several customer facing, contractual disputes for telecommunications companies including performance complaints and termination issues
- Advisory work on international dispute resolution strategies for a mobile phone company