National Law Journal has named James Pizzirusso as a Cybersecurity Trailblazer for 2017. Mr. Pizzirusso was just one of twenty-five attorneys chosen in this national profile for Cybersecurity.

This year, a team of The National Law Journal editors reviewed hundreds of nominations to arrive at the twenty-five profiles featured in the third annual issue of Cyber Security & Data Privacy Trailblazers. For access to the full list of honorees, please visit here.

The publication notes: "James Pizzirusso began taking legal action against retailers with data breaches in 2013, following the Target data breach... Since then, Pizzirusso has overseen successful resolutions with Kmart and a pending resolution with Home Depot."
