

Technology Disputes

Examples of IT and tech-related disputes that Michael has worked on over the years, both domestic and international, are set out below:

- Representing Electronic Data Systems (as was) in Airtours v EDS, one of the largest and most complex IT cases to come before the English courts
- Representing EDS in relation to its high-profile dispute with HMRC over the performance of a new IT system to support tax credits
- Acting for a global vendor on matters arising from a large-scale IT services contract in the transport sector
- Representing a leading New Zealand software company in litigation arising from distribution arrangements in the UK
- Public sector, customer side advisory work relating to large-scale technology projects including the London Congestion Charging Scheme
- Several customer side matters arising from troubled ERP implementations
- Representing Internet businesses in relation to troubled app and agile development projects